Even though Rex is not the ideal dad, he truly cares for Jeannette. On Christmas Day, Rex takes Jeannette out to the desert and gives her a present. He tells her she can have a star, and the one she selects is Venus, a planet, to which Rex states: “What the hell. … It’s Christmas. You can have a planet if you want” (45). By gifting her Venus, Rex demonstrates his love for his daughter and shows that you do not need to be rich in order to be happy.
